Our TCW Story

10 Years of Heart, Soul, and Wine

Our story began in December 2009, when our three children gave us a wine-making kit for Christmas. What started as a simple gift quickly became a passion that changed our lives. Daniel’s curiosity and love for wine grew, turning our home garage into a small wine production space, and soon he was taking winemaking classes at UC Davis in California. Friends and family were the first to taste his creations, and the constant requests for more made it clear—this was something special.

Over the past 25 years, we traveled to wineries across Michigan, soaking in every experience and learning all we could about the craft we were falling in love with. While sharing bottles and dreams, we imagined a place of our own—a place where we could pour not just wine, but our hearts and knowledge, and create memories with others who love wine as much as we do.

On a beautiful Indiana Summer night in 2014, as our family shared a bottle of Daniel’s wine on the back patio, the name “Tippy Creek Winery” was born. The name came from the Tippecanoe River that runs just behind our property and the last half of our family name, Richcreek. It felt like home, it felt right—it was the beginning of a dream taking shape.

Seven years after receiving that first wine-making kit, the doors of Tippy Creek Winery opened in June 2016. From that moment, every bottle poured, every event hosted, and every guest welcomed became a part of our family’s heart and soul. The joy, laughter, and memories we’ve shared with our incredible community are what make this journey so meaningful.

This year marks 10 years of being open and part of this amazing community. We are humbled, grateful, and blessed beyond words to share this dream with all of you—our customers, friends, and family. Thank you for helping us pour our hearts into every glass. Here’s to 10 years of love, laughter, and wine.

Cheers.
Daniel and Lori Richcreek
